Computer classes offered at library

Computer classes will be offered for one hour starting at 2 p.m., at Crittenden County Public Library every Thursday afternoon this month. This is a basic computer operating class for anyone who wants to know about how to use the Internet, email and more. Bring your questions. Instructors will be ready to answer them and assist you.

Farm payments are en route

USDA Farm Service Agency is issuing farm program payments early this month. CRP and DCP payments have been issued electronically to producers' bank accounts and checks should be in the mail by Monday. CRP and DCP payments could be affected if producers have not submitted the required Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) forms. Producers who signed up for CRP emergency haying and grazing and did not pay in advance will notice that their annual rental payment was reduced by the acreage that was hayed or grazed. For more information on CRP and DCP payments, contact your local County FSA office at 988-2180.

No driver's license issuing Tuesday

Crittenden Circuit Court Clerk's office will not be issuing driver's licenses Tuesday because the state will be installing new computer software on the office system.

No driver testing

Crittenden County Circuit Court Clerk's office will not be conducting driver's license testing Friday because of festival activities and street closures around the courthouse.

Elliot West and Randa Berry dreamed up this year's courthouse lawn decorations to promote this weekend's Pumpkin Festival. Here, the two hang tin banners they made to draw attention.

Countryside falling fast

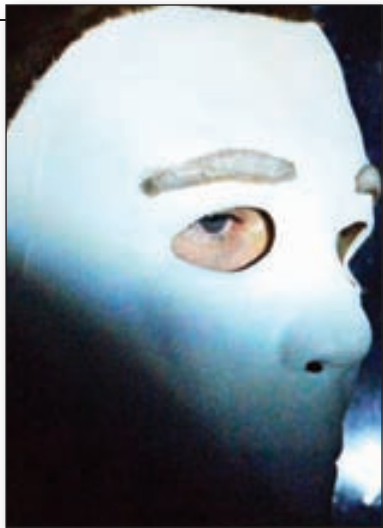

Take a drive through Crittenden County this weekend and enjoy the changing seasons as autumn's colors present themselves in glorious fashion.

This weekend's annual Pumpkin Festival will celebrate the fall season with all sorts of activities downtown, including carnival rides and other games and activities for children.

Marion's landscape is especially colorful this time of year with the numerous maple trees that dot the cityscape.

Cooler temperatures and shorter days are among the factors that contribute to leaves changing colors. Timing is perfect over the next few days to take in the rural sites of fall.

Horror house back in town after 7 years

BY JOHN WALKER
PRESS REPORTER

It has been seven years since Tolu's popular Halloween haunted house was in operation. So much equipment used by the Tolu Community Center was damaged in a 2005 storm that organizers have only recently recovered.

The new haunted house has community members excited – and frightened.

Anne Deboe, a resident of Tolu and community center volunteer, said this year's haunted house has been years in the making. There have been multiple fundraisers, including yard sales to raise the money the center needed to bring the haunted house back to life.

"There were many people who thought we would not make it," Deboe said. "At the time it seemed like it would be too expensive to replace much of the older supplies we had."

Haunting Tolu

Ann Deboe, one of the Tolu residents instrumental in re-organizing the community's Halloween haunted house, goes through the popular spinning tunnel.

But for Deboe and a handful of committed members it was not a matter of money, just a matter of time.

"We started from scratch," Deboe said. "For a long time there were only about 10 of us working to bring it back. This was just such a great event to put on every year, and it really helps us raise money for the center so we knew it was worth bringing it back."

A major part of what they wanted to bring back was the center's infamous tunnel. Deboe said people came from all around to see and walk through the tunnel.

"We have more than 30 people who are volunteering for this year's haunted house," Deboe said. "Now that we have raised the funds to get everything going again many people have volunteered throughout the community to help with putting on the event. That has been a real relief, and I think this year's house is going to be better than ever before because people are so energized."

Deboe said there's some consideration for allowing guests to enter only the tunnel if they're too scared to go through the whole house. She said many people enjoy that one aspect of the event and it is not too scary for young children who might not be ready for the other ghost and ghouls that are encountered inside the haunted house.

The Tolu Community Center Haunted House will be open from 7-11 p.m., every Friday and Saturday in October. Cost is $7 for 14-up, and $5 for anyone younger. The community center will also serve concessions.

Veterans need DD214 for new driver's license

STAFF REPORT

Kentucky Transportation Cabinet has received reports from numerous circuit court clerk offices of misunderstanding about how veterans can obtain a driver's license imprinted with the newly authorized "Veteran" designation, which became available on Sept. 24.

Kentucky veterans who wish to have the designation must present form DD214 – the Department of Defense form that verifies service – at the office of the circuit court clerk when renewing licenses.

The licenses are not free. A veteran will pay the usual $20 renewal fee. However, veterans who renewed licenses between July 12 when the law authorizing the veteran designation became effective and Sept. 24 when the designation became available, can obtain a replacement without paying the standard fee for a duplicate license. The fee for duplicate is waived for those veterans – and those veterans only. The waiver expires Dec. 31.

Veterans who have not yet renewed, and who wish to obtain a license with the veteran designation before their renewal date, may do so but must pay the duplicate fee.

There are no exceptions to the form DD214 requirement.

Our finest suffer and die for this

In obedience and fear of Ezekiel 33:1-6 I send this information forth. Please look it up.

On March 26, at the end of a meeting with Russian President Dimitri Medvedev, the press was let in as Obama was making a couple of final, private remarks to Medvedev.

Obama did not know the microphones were able to pick up what he said. He was speaking of Vladimir Putin, now president of Russia, since May 2012.

Obama: "On all these issues, but particularly missile defense, this, this can be solved but it's important for him to give me space."

President Medvedev: "Yes, I understand. I understand your message about space. Space for you..."

President Obama: "This is my last election. After my election I have more flexibility."

President Medvedev: "I understand. I will transmit this information to Vladimir."

It is shocking an American president would tell the leader of another country, who is not a friend to America, that he planned to mislead his own citizens in order to be reelected so he can then create policy that favors that leader's country.

You may also recall that immediately following the 2010 elections where Republicans gained seats in the Senate, Obama rushed the New START Treaty through the lame-duck Senate, probably illegally, and ratified this treaty. The Russians demanded that we ratify with no changes. As was reported at the time, that treaty heavily favored the Russian national security at a great cost to our own.

In 2009, Obama sold out our allies, Poland and Czechoslovakia, by announcing that we were pulling out our missile defense systems from those two countries. That action was in response to a demand made by Russia, and came on the 70th anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Poland.

On March 16, 2012, President Obama issued an executive order entitled, National Resource Defense Preparedness.

This is an update to the NADP that has been in use for many years. But read the rest very carefully.

This executive order states that the president alone has the authority to take over all resources in the nation (labor, food, industry, etc.) as long as it is done "to promote the national defense" – a phrase so vague that it could mean practically anything.

The power to seize control and take over these resources is delegated to the following government authorities:

1. The Secretary of Agriculture with respect to food resources, food resource facilities, livestock resources, veterinary resources, plant health resources, and the domestic distribution of farm equipment and commercial fertilizer;

2. The Secretary of Energy with respect to all forms of energy;

3. The Secretary of Health and Human Services with respect to health resources;

4. The Secretary of Transportation with respect to all forms of civil transportation;

5. The Secretary of Defense with respect to water resources; and

6. The Secretary of Commerce with respect to all other materials, services, and facilities, including construction materials.

This takeover is designed, in part, to stockpile supplies for the U.S. military. Authority for this total takeover of all national resources is granted with nothing more than the writing of a single statement that claims these actions is necessary to promote the national defense.

As stated in the order: "the authority delegated by section 201 of this order may be used only to support programs that have been determined in writing as necessary or appropriate to promote the national defense:

(a) by the Secretary of Defense with respect to military production and construction, military assistance to foreign nations, military use of civil transportation, stockpiles managed by the Department of Defense, space, and directly related activities."

What all this means is that the U.S. government now claims the power to simply march onto your farm with guns drawn and demand all your crops, seeds, livestock and farm equipment.

Is this exaggerating? Read it for yourself.

And for those living in denial who refuse to accept the reality of what's happening in America, remember the following:

• When NaturalNews reported on the existence of the NDAA, they were told their reporting was misleading because Obama opposed it and wouldn't sign it.

• When Obama betrayed America and signed the bill, we were told the reporting was misleading because "it didn't apply to Americans."

• When Obama admitted it did apply to Americans, he announced that he would choose "not to use it on Americans" but only by the grace of his restraint. Nobody who previously accused the report of misleading the public had the integrity to offer an apology and say, "Gee, you were right, it does apply to Americans!"

• Now Obama has seized control over all food, farms, livestock, water and transportation across America. As one man said, How many brain-dead Americans will continue to live in denial and try to convince themselves this is not happening? Sticking your head in the sand does not make this go away.

Remember the armed raids on Rawesome Foods? With guns drawn, California authorities assaulted the food distribution center, arrested the farmers, and then proceeded to destroy $50,000 worth of food including milk, eggs, cheese and watermelons. If you care, just type in Google Rawesome Foods and you will get a head full.

As outrageous as that raid was, and many more just like it over the nation, it's only the beginning. Now, thanks to Obama's executive order, the federal government can conduct Rawesome-style raids on all farms, all grocery stores, all food co-ops and even individual home gardens.

This is exactly how every dictator in the 20th Century took over the country they were claiming to help. Look it up. It is there for all to read.

In May a DHS whistleblower informed the Canada Free Press that the Obama agents are plotting major racial riots to produce justification for martial law, delaying the November elections, possibly indefinitely.

Is this why the Department of Homeland Defense has ordered 450 million rounds of hollow point bullets, riot gear, millions of high powered rifles, Social Security ordering 174,000 rounds, and The National Weather Service ordering 46,000 rounds of bullets?

Bechler gets endorsement

To the Editor:

I would like to take a moment to encourage your readers to get to know the candidates on the ballot before they vote this election. Presidential races sometimes overshadow down-ticket races and suck all the proverbial air out of the room. This year is no exception. Please know there are other very important offices on the ballot including all 100 seats of the Kentucky State House.

This election you'll have a clear choice for your next representative in the State House when it comes to pro-life, pro-family and fiscally responsible policies. That's why the Commonwealth Policy PAC is endorsing Lynn Bechler. Mr. Bechler is committed to fixing the broken state pension system. He is pro-life and believes marriage is between one man and one woman. He is also fiscally conservative and believes that when times are tough that government should tighten its belt and live within its means just like the rest of us. It's time for a new direction in Kentucky and Lynn Bechler represents bold new leadership. He is a candidate we can trust to fight for our values and a candidate that will make us proud while serving.

Local man seriously injured in accident in Webster County

A Crittenden County man remains hospitalized in Evansville following a serious automobile accident almost three weeks ago in the edge of Webster County.

Michael Musser, 25, was coming home from his job as a coal miner when he lost control of his vehicle east of the Crittenden-Webster line on Ky. 120. Musser suffered a serious head injury in the single-vehicle accident, which happened about 1 a.m., Sept. 21.

Corps still studying what happened with Dycusburg cemetery

The Corps of Engineers met with opposing parties over the removal of the Bunton Cemetery in Dycusburg on Sept. 19. The Corps is trying to mediate a resolution between Logan Properties, which is constructing the Paddy's Bluff Quarry and Barge Terminal, and a representative of the Bunton family, who allege the cemetery was illegally moved.

Craig Potts, site protection program manager with the Kentucky Heritage Council, said there is no immediate solution as a result of the meeting.

"The Corps is still evaluating what happened and has not decided what it wants to do in this case," Potts said. "With everything that happened as described in the letter the Corps sent to this office there is a good chance they will ask for a public meeting."

Potts said the Corps might also decide to just reset the clock and make Logan Properties provide public notice again, allowing for representatives of the Bunton Family to challenge the project.

"Everyone acknowledged there were problems with the original review," Potts said. "And even the Corps acknowledges these problems."

Bart Frazer, legal counsel for Logan Properties, said the meeting with the Corps was very productive and believes the Corps will come away seeing his client's position.

"We followed all the state's applicable laws," Frazer said. "I think we can come out of this and hopefully by the end of the year have a memorandum of understanding."

Frazer does not want to pre-judge any decision the Corps might have, but hopes the federal agency understands the impact its decision might have on the project.

"I just hope they look at the jobs and economic impact this could have for the county," Frazer said.

The Corps has not said when it would make a final ruling on the matter. It is still reviewing archaeological and environmental assessments.

ATV loaded with pot stopped by police Saturday

A joint investigation involving sheriffs' departments in Crittenden and Caldwell counties, the Pennyrile Area Narcotics Task Force and Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has led to drug charges against a Shady Grove man.

Crittenden County Deputy Greg Rushing said a tip led officers to a farm on Blackburn Church Road just before dark Saturday. Caldwell County authorities had received a tip that marijuana was being grown on a hunting farm so Rushing, Detective Robbie Kirk of the task force and Randy Conway, the local conservation officer, had gone to check out the information. Instead, they ended up catching someone unrelated to the original case they were working.

Rushing said officers were waiting at a gate to gain entrance to the farm when an ATV came down the public roadway and turned onto Gum Creek Road. Officers stopped the ATV driven by 64-year-old Rudy York. On the four-wheel off-road vehicle they found an approximately 12-gallon tote filled with processed marijuana. Rushing said officers then went to York's home nearby where they found what was described in the police report as a marijuana-growing operation in an old cistern.

York was charged with felony trafficking in marijuana (eight ounces to five pounds), operating an ATV on a public roadway, possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

When police went back Sunday to the farm that had originally peaked their interest, they found nothing growing.

Absentee voting for the Nov. 6 general election will begin at Crittenden County Courthouse starting Monday. Machine absentee voting will continue through the day before the election. Paper ballots must be requested from the county clerk's office.

State police seek texted tips to help stop criminals

Kentucky State Police is initiating a new proactive program where citizens are now able to text confidential tips from their cell phone. The program, "Text a Tip," is designed to report criminal activity, assist with neighborhood watch and serve as an additional resource for schools and college campuses.

"Text a Tip" is completely confidential and easy to use, according to a state police news release. Anyone with texting capabilities from personal electronic devices can simply text 67283 in the address field, then type KSPTIP in the message field, leave a space and then enter information about a crime. If your tip went through successfully, you will receive an instant confirmation text on your phone.

Web-based and phone tip lines have been around a while, but have the disadvantage of a perpetrator overhearing the person on the phone or they required Internet access.

KSP spokesperson Sgt. Rick Saint-Blancard said "Text a Tip" is gaining ground because text messaging does not require verbal communication or Internet access.

"Everywhere you go, someone has a cell phone with them," Saint-Blancard said in a KSP news release. "Whether a person is at home or a large venue, like a sporting event or concert, they can text a tip to us without bringing attention to themselves."

Saint-Blancard says people who live in high-crime neighborhoods are often afraid that if they are seen talking to police, they could be subject to retaliation from drug dealers or other criminals.

Text-a-tip programs are being promoted in schools across the country to report weapon threats and reduce bullying.

"No technology is more powerful than the eyes and ears of the public," Saint-Blancard said.

Local author, Tucker, hosting book signing Friday at Paducah

Crittenden County author Ethel Tucker will be in Paducah this week for a book signing.

In her book, "Tea Time of Life: A Second Collection of Recipes and Stories," Tucker chronicles the history of Marion trade and tradition in the self-published book printed by AuthorHouse. It chronicles 94 years in Crittenden County and contains hundreds of recipes Tucker has used throughout her lifetime while entertaining family and friends.

The author will have a book signing between 2-4 p.m., Friday at Farmer &

Wright Attorneys, 329 North 5th Street in Paducah. Books are also available at Louise's Flowers and the Marion Cafe in Marion, or by contacting the author at (270) 965-4055.

It is also available in hardback or soft cover online from AuthorHouse and Barnes and Noble

Like her first book, "From Pilot Knob to Main Street," published in 2005, Tucker shares interesting stories of days gone by in Marion, including her experiences with the county fair, the Flood of 1937, traveling and other fond memories.

Crittenden native creates weather web for Marion

BY JASON TRAVIS
PRESS REPORTER

Crittenden County has a new source for forecasts and weather alerts designed specifically for the area. The Crittenden County Weathercast is available at www.crittendenweather.com. The site is maintained by Crittenden native and meteorologist Eric Watson. The website went live a couple of months ago.

Watson is a 2002 Crittenden County High School graduate. He graduated in 2007 from Western Kentucky University with a major in meteorology and a minor in broadcasting. He received an associate degree in meteorology technology and is certified in Geographic Information Systems. He currently works in the GIS field for a company in Bowling Green. He and his wife Morgan reside there with their son, Eli.

Watson created the website because he has always been fascinated by weather and felt Crittenden County wasn't thoroughly covered by local stations in Paducah or Evansville during severe weather conditions.

"The closest National Weather Service is in Paducah. They have an office in Evansville and I said Marion sort of sets in between. A lot of times when severe weather events are going on, if there's a severe weather event in Paducah and one in Marion, usually the severe weather event in Paducah gets covered before the one in Marion," Watson said.

The website is recognized by the National Weather Service office in Paducah as a media site. Individuals can post storm damage reports on the website under the Community Storm Reports menu. Watson can participate in National Weather Service live chats and give weather service officials information about storm damage he receives from Crittenden County. Live chat rooms are used by broadcasters receive storm damage information. It allows them to talk directly with forecasters at the National Weather Service.

Initially, it was a lightning strike that sparked Watson's interest in meteorology. As a young boy, Watson was looking out the window at an approaching storm and witnessed lightning strike a tree at his home near Rosebud Hill.

"All of a sudden the sky turned blue. It flashed blue as bright as can be, and tree bark starting hitting the window," he recalls. "I've always had a fascination for weather. And that's what made the degree so easy for me. When you study something you love it makes it so much easier."

He said Crittenden County is one of 62 sites in Kentucky that has a Mesonet weather station. The site is four miles northeast of Marion near Repton. The Kentucky Mesonet is a network of automated

September weather

Crittenden County received six inches of rainfall last month and during September the average temperature was 67.9 degrees. The hottest day was 89 degrees on Friday, Sept. 7, according to the Kentucky Mesonet weather station. The coldest temperature was 38 on Sunday, Sept. 23. Crittenden County remains in a moderate drought, needing 7.58 inches of rainfall above normal to ease the dry conditions.

ceived was in Letcher County in eastern Kentucky. The site reported more than 40 inches of rain for the year.

Watson actively followed Hurricane Isaac's impact on local weather. He said there are numerous factors to consider when forecasting for any weather system.

"There are so much other things involved like winds aloft, what's your temperature in the atmosphere as far as convective activity, how much moisture is available in the atmosphere as how much rainfall you can potentially get," he said.

Observing the long-range weather models, Watson said he doesn't see much change in the dry weather pattern for the fall outlook.

"It looks to be slightly above normal temperatures than average and precipitation will be typical to slightly below normal for the fall season," he said.

Police say they've solved two burglaries

STAFF REPORT

Marion Police Department says it has solved two recent burglary cases. Through investigations that reached into both Union and Caldwell counties, police have charged individuals who were allegedly involved in a stolen golf cart case and in the taking of about $800 worth of items from the Marion-Crittenden County Park concession stand.

The two cases are unrelated.

Police Officer Jerry Parker said a tip from Union County helped solve the concession stand burglary that occurred in July. Two juveniles, ages 17 and 15, were allegedly responsible for breaking into the park concession stand and taking dozens drinks, snacks and equipment. Some of the items taken have been recovered in Morgantown from the home of one of the juveniles. Both are charged with third-degree burglary.

Parker said the two teens are also implicated in burglarizing other concession stands in the region. He said they were caught on videotape trying to break into the Union County High School concession stand.

Parker was also the lead investigator in the case of a golf cart stolen from Marion Country Club last month. Parker said the cart belonging to Curtis Franklin has been recovered, but the men who stole it had burned the cart and sold two sets of golf clubs that had been on it.

Charged in that case are Roy Givens, 19, Colin Belt 20, and Cody McDonald, 21, all of Marion. Parker said two of the men, Givens and Belt, have also been implicated in the theft of a utility trailer in Caldwell County. All three were charged with third-degree burglary in the golf cart case.

Parker said the value of the cart and clubs was about $2,500. He said the suspects have already begun making restitution to the victim. The suspects were arraigned in Crittenden District Court Wednesday.

Kuttawa man hurt in motorcycle wreck

Kentucky State Police investigated a two-vehicle, injury collision that occurred on Ky. 70 in Dycusburg just before 2 p.m., Monday.

A preliminary investigation revealed that James McFarland, 37 of Kuttawa was operating a 2001 Suzuki motorcycle eastbound. Joshua Kinnis, 28 of Dycusburg was operating a 2009 Chevrolet Malibu. Police say Kinnis was stopped in a driveway waiting to make a left turn onto Ky. 70. McFarland believed, according to the police report, that Kinnis was going to pull into the roadway, so McFarland applied his brakes. In doing so, he lost control of the motorcycle. The motorcycle struck Kinnis's vehicle and a mailbox. It overturned and ejected McFarland, who was wearing a helmet.

McFarland was flown by PHI Air Medical to St. Mary's Hospital in Evansville for treatment. Kinnis, who was wearing a seatbelt, was not injured. There were no passengers in his vehicle.

What's Going Around

The cooler weather has brought about a lot of respiratory and sinus issues. The most frequent complaints have been headache, cough, congestion, fever and sore throat. Most of the symptoms can be relieved with rest, fluids and over the counter medications. If your fever or symptoms persist, seek help from your medical provider. Also, the flu season is upon us, so check with your provider about a flu vaccination.

Supporting our local farmers

Throughout the fall harvesting season we recognize and appreciate all the hardworking farmers that have helped our communities on a local level as well as a national level by providing jobs, economic growth and most importantly an abundance of food, that we share with the world. The farmer's job is never ending and we cherish them every day of the year.

Winn vendor at Christmas in Marion

BY JASON TRAVIS
PRESS REPORTER

Shanna Winn is excited as she prepares for the Christmas in Marion Arts and Craft Show later this month.

The 25th annual event will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 20 at Fohs Hall.

This will be Winn's first time as a vendor at the arts and crafts show. She will be displaying and selling personal pieces of artwork that she makes from recycled materials.

"I really like to see something that would normally be thrown away turned into something that's useful, pretty, exciting and eye-catching," Winn said. "My favorite part about it is whenever somebody looks at it and says, 'Oh my gosh. That's really neat. What is that? How did you do that?'"

Winn plans on showcasing several holiday and seasonal items including ornaments, decorations as well as art pieces she has created. She also plans on displaying jewelry, framed and home decorative pieces.

One project that is especially eye-catching is a framed work of rolled magazine pages. The project utilized using three full magazines to complete.

"What's inspirational to me at the moment is that it's just something that would have been thrown away. When you hang it on the wall it's just this fun explosion of color," Winn said. "Every time I look at it I see something different. I really like it."

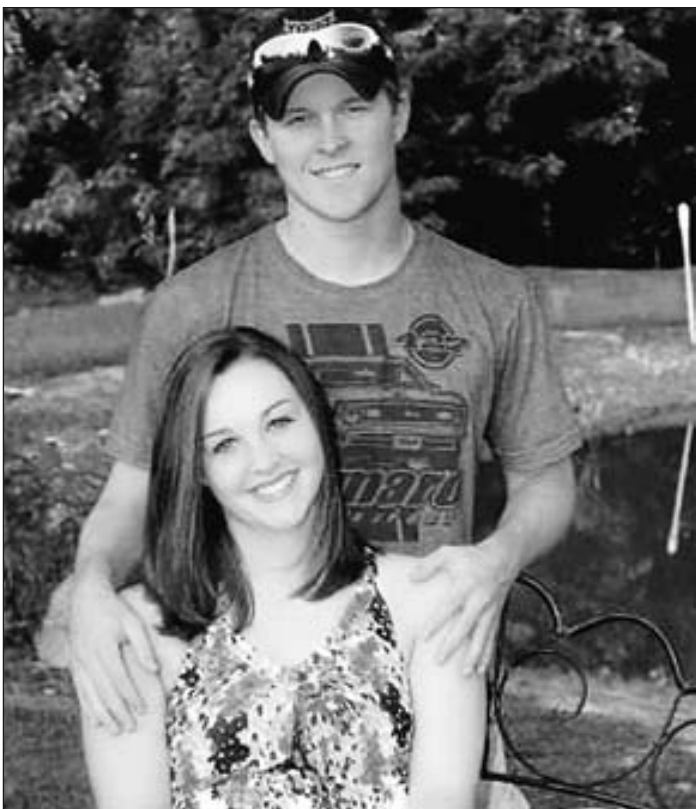

Winn also enjoys finding subjects for drawings. Her husband is a fan of the rock band The Doors and especially appreciates the drawing of lead singer, the late Jim Morrison.

She says artists learn patience through working on different projects.

"I do have some pieces that have taken quite some time, and a lot of patience. Especially if you're working with recycled materials. It's not like you just pick it up and put it together. You have to transform it somehow."

Winn is a legal assistant at Frazer, Rogers and Peek law firm in Marion. She and her husband have two daughters.

Nesbitt-Overbey

Bill and Michelle Nesbitt of Marion announce the upcoming marriage of their daughter, Jennifer, to Clay Overbey, son of Danny and Stacey Overbey of Princeton.

Nesbitt is a graduate of Crittenden County High School and is employed by Mediacom.

Overbey is a graduate of Caldwell County High School and is employed by the Kentucky State Penitentiary.

Wedding vows will be exchanged at 5 p.m., Oct. 20 at 6044 State Route 506 in Marion.

Invitations have been sent to immediate family. Close friends and family are welcome to attend.

Locals participate in Senior Games; several take first place

STAFF REPORT

Several senior citizens from Crittenden County earned top prizes in the Pennyrile Area Senior Games Sept. 18-19 in Hopkinsville.

Participating were Claudena Travis, first place in lawn bowling; Shirley Conway, second in corn toss and third in the one-mile walk; Darl Henley, third in disc throw and washer toss; Barbara Steele, first in shuffleboard, second in horseshoes and third in the one-mile walk; Sarah Ford, second in the one-mile walk and soccer kick; and Margaret Gilland, first in corn toss and croquet, second in horseshoes, shuffleboard and one-mile walk.

Also attending were Ina Day and Crittenden County Senior Citizens director Aleisha McDowell.

Betty Hodges, Travis and Gilland played in the Purchase Area games in Paducah May 14. The state games were recently completed in Murry.

Learn to lower your grocery shopping bill in time of inflation

You have probably heard that the cost of food is expected to rise next year. You can do several things to reduce your current grocery expenses and hopefully prepare yourself for the expected price increase.

One of the easiest things to do is to plan ahead. That includes making a meal plan for the week and making a shopping list based on the ingredients you need to fulfill your plan. Check weekly store sale ads and product coupons in the newspaper and online to find the best prices for the items you need. However, don't buy something you don't have plans for just because it's on sale. Make sure sale items ring up with the correct price at checkout.

Avoid shopping hungry, in a hurry or with your kids, as all can increase impulse spending.

Wisely choose your shopping destination. For many rural consumers, convenience stores are the most accessible places to shop; however, they typically are one of the most expensive. You might find it is more cost-effective to go to a larger store in a nearby community once a month to stock-up on commonly used non-perishable items.

Instead of increasing prices, some companies are reducing their packaging sizes. This can increase your spending, as you will need to replace these items more often. When at the grocery store, check the item's price per unit found on the shelf tag. The price per unit allows you to easily compare the costs of the product based on size. The price may be cheaper in a different size or brand. If your grocery store does not display a product's price per unit, you can easily calculate it by taking the cost of the product and dividing it by its packaging size. Bringing a small calculator may be helpful.

Review your grocery purchases at least monthly to determine total monthly grocery expenses and individual product prices. You may be able to further reduce spending by eliminating things that aren't necessities. Cheaper alternatives may be available for some of the more costly items.

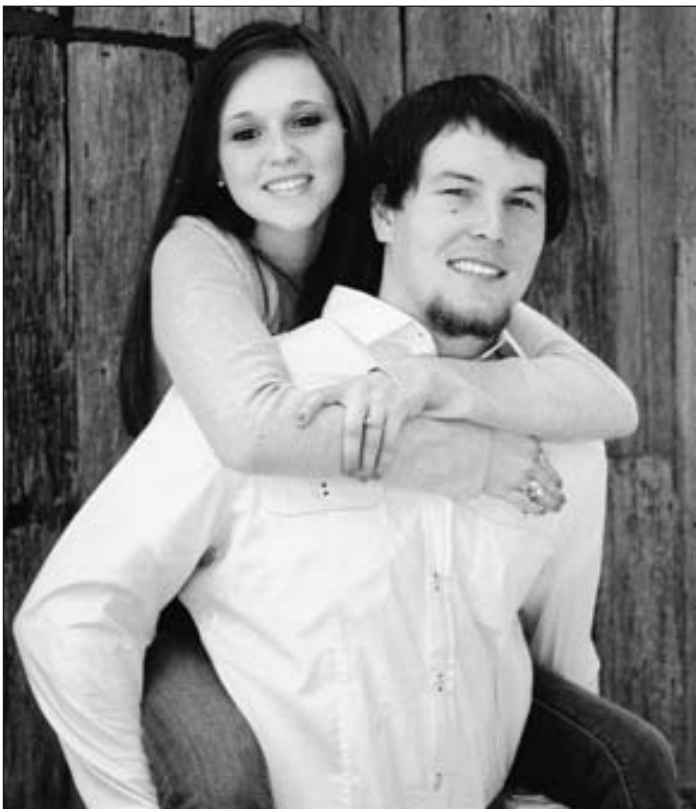

The Tom Teer family pose with an edition of The Crittenden Press as they return from an Alaskan Cruise.

Shuecraft-Sherer

Sean and Christie Shuecraft announce the upcoming marriage of their daughter, Summer Nicole, to Barrett Sherer, son of Phyllis Sherer and the late Thomas Daryl Sherer.

Shuecraft is the granddaughter of Danny and Kathy Shuecraft and Rickie and Vickie Gilland. She is the great-granddaughter of J.D. and Wilma Gilland.

Sherer is the grandson of Carolyn Papineau and the late Curtley Hackney and the late Thomas and Anna Hayes Sherer.

The couple will exchange vows at 2 p.m., Oct. 20 during an outdoor ceremony in Tolu, across from the Tolu Methodist Church with a reception to follow. Everyone is welcome.

Petty Officer 2nd Class Stephen A. Stallions (above) waits to film a scene in the village area on the island the USS Colorado takes refuge to.

Stallions to appear on ABC's 'Last Resort'

A Crittenden County native is joining the casting crew of ABC's 'Last Resort' television series filming on the island of Oahu, Hawaii. Naval Submariner Petty Officer 2nd Class Stephen A. Stallions is currently serving his second tour of military service in the U.S. Navy based in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Stallions is a former crew member of the USS La Jolla, a virginia-class fast-attack nuclear submarine also based in Pearl Harbor. He is now assigned to the Pearl Harbor Naval Submarine Support Command Center (NSSC).

Petty Officer 2nd Class Stallions joined the crew of ABC's new 2012 series of 'Last Resort' last month and began filming his parts in the series Oct 2.

Stallions was given an option of choosing a screen name during preparations of his wardrobe and in doing so will appear in the series as a regular crew member of the USS Colorado under the name of 'STEPHENS' (for Stephen S.).

Stallions will make his debut in the sixth episode of this season which is scheduled to air on ABC Nov.1. Stallions has met most all the leading actors on the set and enjoys the opportunity of working with his fellow casting crew.

Tinsley accepts new position at CCES

After 15 years as Director of Preschool Pals and Kid's Club Childcare, Carla Tinsley is leaving the position. Tinsley insists she isn't going far, however. She accepted a Head Start position at the elementary school.

"The kids are my life. I love them dearly and am going to miss them dearly," Tinsley said. "Its been a joy working with the kids. It was a tough decision to make. But they are not losing me totally; I'm still going to be around."

Tinsley said she will be working about two hours a week at the Preschool Pals and Kid's Club Childcare as needed.

Drennan awarded with scholarship

School district employee David Drennan has received a $1,000 Badgett Education Foundation Scholarship.

The Rodgers Badgett, Sr., Foundation Renewable Scholarship Program for Graduate

Bentley Badgett, the chairman of the scholarship committee, congratulates recipient David Drennan.

Education awards education majors completing their undergraduate work at Murray State University's Madisonville Campus.

Drennan is a senior at Murray State University's Madisonville Campus. He will graduate with honors in May 2013 with a degree in elementary education. He will be fully certified to teach in the 2013-2014 school year.

He is employed by the Crittenden County School District as the Kid's Club Morning Supervisor at the elementary school.

"I am very excited to receive this award and excited to be one step closer to my career as a teacher with the help of the Badgetts," Drennan said.

The award was sponsored by the Badgett Education Foundation in memory of Rogers Badgett.

Known as a working man's man, Rogers Badgett understood the need for formal education and supported and encouraged higher education throughout his life.

Crittenden County did its part to help with World War II efforts

Have you noticed lately the loads of scrap metal rolling through our town? It is a daily sight to see the trucks and trailers loaded down with every kind of old scrap metal one can find.

I'm sure this sight reminds many of the time during World War II when scrap metal was a much needed material for making war items for the soldiers. Although not to help the war efforts today, the collecting of scrap metal for recycling is a way to help make a little extra cash.

The World War II days of 1942 were busy for Marion and Crittenden County. Everyone, old and young, worked together to support our young men in battle. The way they could do this at home was to buy war bonds and help and support the many drives to collect needed items in the county. These items collected would be reused to help make items that our soldiers needed in the war.

Two of these important drives were the collection of rubber and all kinds of scrap metal. From the pages of The Crittenden Press during the World War II time period we learn how our county was supporting the war.

June 19, 1942

The drive for collection of scrap rubber opened Monday in the county according to George Patmor, member of the salvage committee.

R.W. Croft, mayor, and C.E. Truitt, county judge, urge each and everyone to cooperate with the government in the collection of scrap rubber badly needed at the time. Victory over the despised Axis powers can be had by the cooperation of each and everyone with the other.

Do not delay in this vital campaign and undertaking to provide armed forces with necessary rubber. One ton of scrap rubber will produce 1,000 pounds of usable rubber for airplane tires and other armed equipment.

Much scrap rubber is to be found on farms, homes, and in and around stables and other outbuildings customarily found on average farms. Without delay, collect this scrap rubber and place same in proper channels in order that it may be used by the United States of America. This drive is of vital importance.

Service stations throughout the county are to pay one cent per pound for the rubber brought in during the campaign. The drive has been opened to supply government needs and is the most important phase of the present month.

Scrap rubber can be found in cast off and unusable tires, tubes, boots, mats, hose, heels, composition soles, tennis balls and shoes, trays, girdles, shower caps, rubber gloves, rubber baby pants, rubber shower curtains, old rubber washers, garden hoses, hot water bottles and many other types of articles.

When the drive ended in July 10, 1942, 104,381 pounds of scrap rubber was collected by the petroleum distributors and placed in the proper government channels.

Crittenden was above the national and state total having 7 ½ pound average per person of 12, 115 persons based on the 1940 census.

In a message to John Belamy, chairman of the drive, John Downing, of the petroleum scrap group said, "great work is being done by your organization."

George Hinch received 16,840 pounds of junk during rally day. Hinch said that receipts of scrap iron and steel were above average for the day while batteries, aluminum, copper, brass, lead and zinc were below; only one battery was received, aluminum totaled 13 pounds, copper, brass, zinc and lead total was 24 pounds. Tin receipts lead all in excess of the quota, 1055 pounds.

Prize winners of the day were A.E. Clark, Tolu, greatest distance $2; P.W. Hughes, largest load iron and steel, total 3,870 pounds, $2; C.E. Clark, Tolu, largest load rags, 93 pounds, $2; Ed Beard, most aluminum, four pounds, $2; Newt Kirk, largest poundage brass, copper, lead, zinc, 12 pounds, $2; Howard J. Cummings, most tin, 448 pounds, $2; Buddy Grimes, most rubber, 146 pounds, $2; Mrs. S. Gugenheim, most grease or cast off kitchen fat, 25 pounds, $2; Tom Carter, $2 for only battery received, first load of iron or steel received at eight o'clock, Charles Baker, 1,800 pounds; Abe Herrin, 83, oldest man selling junk.

Nov. 13, 1942

Charles H. Imboden, WPA emergency head, said that his organization had collected 1,000,000 pounds of scrap metal and rubber since Nov. 1 and estimated that two million pounds remained in Crittenden despite the campaign.

WPA yard is near I.C. station and all such metal, sheet iron and steel included is brought in by truck and stored there until loaded and shipped.

Imboden said there is also need for rubber and persons are requested to again search premises for this necessity and call when it is collected.

All scrap metal of any type or size is collected, metal beds, springs, old irons, bathtubs, lawnmowers, metal refrigerators, old kitchen sinks, electric fans, wash tubs, washing machines, wire fencing, roofing, old farm equipment and all similar types are of value to the government and are shipped to smelters as is iron and steel.

Pupils of county schools are urged to continue their search for scrap and report to instructors who in turn report location to Imboden.

Much scrap still remains in and around mills, quarries, and recently large weights have been collected from schools at Frances, Mattoon, Siloam and Sul-lenger.

Dec. 11, 1942

The rural salvage drive continues with each farm in Crittenden having been assigned 400 pounds to be collected before Dec. 31.

Superintendent J.L.F. Paris is in charge of the campaign. Paris said yesterday that he had instructed each teacher in the county to have pupils visit farms in the territory served by the school to for the purpose of collection. Due to gasoline rationing Taylor asks that all persons who can possibly do so bring the scrap to Marion.

All types of scrap metal are needed in the drive, both heavy and light and any person having large boilers or other such articles are requested to notify Supt. Paris.

Crittenden County worked as a team, young and old alike, to help with the gathering of all things needed to help our military win the war.

As the years progressed and the churches took turns hosting monthly associational meetings, Nicky Winders realized there was a need for more space.

With the building and location taken care of, the only thing left to do is to fully finish the building. With the help of a mission team from Macedonia General Baptist Church in Franklin, Ky.,

"Seeing everything come together like this, is such a blessing," Davis said. "It's truly answered prayers."

First of all, let's look at the definition of "meekness." Let me say that meekness is not weakness, as some would erroneously think. A child of God who knows this kind of happiness is truly a meek person, but they are not a "push-over." No, meekness is "power under control" and where it refers to someone who is God-controlled rather than self-controlled. Most of the

The saved, born again child of God who knows the richness of meekness will receive great inheritance, while the lost, unsaved person will only begin injury and torment that will last for all of eternity. If you don't know Jesus Christ, come to Him today and know the happiness of being "happily controlled by God."

LBL hosts Race to Canal

Race to the Canal will take place again this year at Land Between the Lakes on Sunday, Oct. 21. This mountain bike race is sanctioned by USA Cycling (USAC). Race to the Canal is a point-to-point event that will cover challenging and varied terrain along the North-South Trail from Golden Pond Visitor Center to North Wellcome Station. Some expert classes will also race the Canal Loop for a total of 42.5 miles. There are race classes that accommodate all ages and ability levels, including: children; first-timers men and women; single speed; Clydesdale (200 or over rider); and masters for ages 50 and over. Race distances will vary, depending on the race category. The race has 31 classes, with prizes awarded to the top three finishers in each class. Races will be held weather permitting and will end near the Between the Rivers Memorial Bridge on Canal Loop Trail. For race information, contact Justin Harrison at 703-1893 or email justin@wood-nwave.com.

VOLLEYBALL

Top girls' sport in KY

The American Volleyball Coaches Association says that volleyball, with 255 schools and 6,147 participants, is the top high school team sport for girls in the state of Kentucky, as reported by the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS). After slow growth over the previous several years, volleyball in the bluegrass took a big leap forward from the 2010-11 to the 2011-12 season, adding 19 programs, up more than eight percent, and 689 participants, up more than 12 percent. A reported 5,392 girls played volleyball in the 2005-06 season. Kentucky is one of 22 states that share the same distinction of being the most played varsity sport, with soccer (16) basketball (eight) and softball (five) rounding out the remainder of the country. In the United States (including D.C.) there are currently 418,903 participants, which is up from 402,768 in the 2007-2008 season. Of the 22 states that have volleyball as the most played team sport for girls, Michigan has the highest number with 20,408 reported players.

Fourth-ranked Tigers rip Rockets

Rain limits fans for 55th Rocket homecoming

STAFF REPORT
Murray crashed the Rockets' 55th annual homecoming dance Friday night to the tune of its own drummer as Dante Howard scored three touchdowns for the fourth-ranked Tigers in a 41-0 win. While Murray (6-1, 2-0) scored at will, punching touchdowns on its first six possessions, the Rockets brought anything but their A game to the party. Crittenden rushed for less than a yard per carry on 33 tries and quarterback Travis Gilbert completed half of six passes, but netted only a dozen yards. Meanwhile Murray piled up 355 yards total offense. Most of it came from Howard, a halfback in the Tigers' wishbone running attack. He picked up a game-high 117 yards on the ground and caught a touchdown pass from Tiger QB Dylan Boone, who was 4-for-6 for 104 yards.

Boone had plenty of time on his few passing plays. He threw only a half dozen times, but four went for touchdowns. "Murray is just solid. They beat us all the way around," Rocket coach Al Starnes surmised following his team's second shutout this season.

In fact, Crittenden's offense hasn't scored in three of its last four games. The last time that happened was way back in 1979.

"When we can't control the line of scrimmage, it's a problem," Starnes said.

Murray's run defense dictates the way Starnes said he had to approach the game. And with the Tigers' closing speed, it's difficult to get anything going offensively.

Crittenden (3-4, 1-1) managed three first downs the first half and just one the second. Even when field position was good, Crittenden failed to capitalize. Twice the Rockets got the ball inside Murray's 35. The first time they went four and out, the second time they did manage to move the chains before turning the ball over on downs.

"The effort is there, but they just beat us up front. They're so quick," Starnes said.

Rocket seniors Eli Bebout and Stephon Cozart were both hurt in the game. Neither appeared to be too severe, and Lane Wallace suffered an ankle injury in the second half that could be a problem.

The game was played during a steady rain, but both teams took fairly good care of the football. Murray had the game's only turnover on a late fumble that was recovered by Jacob Young after teammate Alex Cosby scooted it several yards down field trying to get a handle on the wet ball.

The conditions limited Crittenden's passing attack and it was a problem on a fake-punt pass at a critical point in the first half when the Rockets trailed by just six. Deep in his own territory and facing fourth and 12, Noah Dickerson tried to pick up a first down but the ball slipped out of his hand on a passing attempt.

By the fourth period, there were more people on the sideline than in the Rockets' stands. Just 27 people were in the homeside bleachers in the final period. However, many fans did watch from their vehicles on the west end hill near the bus garage.

Murray went into the game ranked fourth in the Associated Press poll and sixth in the Bluegrass Preps poll.

CRITTENDEN COUNTY ROCKETS

Record (3-4, 1-1)
Class 2A District 1
Injuries: Crittenden County has four players with bad ankles this week. Quarterback Travis Gilbert, running back Grant Gardner, lineman Stephon Cozart and line-backer Lane Wallace are all gimpy, but expected to play.

Series: Crittenden leads the series 25-9 and has dominated it over the past decade. Ballard's last win over Crittenden came in 2002. The Rockets have won 24 of the last 27 matchups against the Bombers dating back 30 years. Ballard won three in a row in the regular season and playoffs in 2001 and 2002.

Game Plan: The Bombers have a very solid running back and a play-action passing game that will put pressure on the Rocket secondary to be disciplined in its play. Containing the Ballard quarterback out of the pocket will also be key to a Rocket victory.

BALLARD MEMORIAL BOMBERS

Record (4-3, 1-2)
Class 2A District 1
What's at Stake: The Bombers clinched a playoff berth with last week's victory at Reidland. Now, they want to move up a notch and get a better first-round, post-season matchup by beating the Rockets for the first time in 10 years. In the district race, it looks like Reidland is the odd team out and will not make the playoffs in its final football season. That is unless Reidland beats Murray on Oct. 19. The loser of the Crittenden vs. Ballard game could likely face Class 2A's top-ranked Owensboro Catholic in the first round of the playoffs. The winner will likely face Hancock County in round one.

Key Players: QB Trevor Langston is a good passer and can run, too. His favorite targets are the Bledsoe boys – Devoun and Dre Bledsoe. Langston has completed 57 of 133 passes for right at 1,000 yards. He's thrown 10 touchdown passes, but nine interceptions. The Bledsoes have more than two-thirds of the Bombers' receiving yards. Running back Mason Weir ran for more than 200 yards against Reidland last week and has rushed for almost 1,000 already this season.

Game Notes: The Bombers have a very good one-two punch with Weir at RB and Langston at QB. Weir commands respect by the defense, but Ballard will also spread the field and run play-action passes to keep secondaries honest. The Bombers will roll Langston out of the pocket, get him on the corners and let him make decisions about passing or running.

Lady Rockets earn berth in 2nd Region after upsetting LCHS

Crittenden County upset Livingston Central in the first round of Monday’s Fifth District volleyball tournament to earn a berth in next week’s Second Region Tournament at Caldwell County.

"I knew that it was possible to pull off this win if they played to their potential," first-year Lady Rocket volleyball coach Carol West said. "They did a great job."

With the three-set win in the first round at Cadiz Monday (25-19, 25-18, 25-22), the Lady Rockets moved into the second round of the district playoffs, matched with host Trigg County.

Crittenden (6-16) lost its first set 17-25, but came back with a win in the second set, 23-25. The Lady Rockets lost the third set 17-25 but won the fourth set 26-24, sending them to a tiebreaker in the fifth set. Although close, the Lady Rockets lost their final set, 10-15.

"The team did an amazing job for both games," West said. "The girls played as a team until the last point. They played with endurance."

Stacie Hearell, Haylee Young and Erin McDonald were standout players, according to West. All three were also named to the Fifth District all-star team. Also playing well was Abby Whitney, whom West said did a great job substituting, along with Ashley Collyer, who made some great spikes.

FOOTBALL

CCMS loses final game at Browning

Crittenden County Middle School’s football team lost its final game of the season 46-30 against Browning Springs to finish the year with a 4-5 record.

Crittenden played well, but came up short in the last quarter after trailing 26-22 at the half.

Coach Donnie Phillips was impressed with the team’s intensity. He said the squad has come a long way, making great improvement since the start of the season.

Maeson Myers – the team catalyst all season long – scored two touchdowns on runs of 13 and 11 yards. Shelby Robinson scored on a 15-yard touchdown run and Daniel Riley scored on a one-yard carry. Robinson also scored two conversions and Riley ran for one.

Myers rushed for 132 yards on 17 carries, Robinson had 65 yards on 14 carries and Riley had just one carry for a yard.

Quarterback Paxton Riley was 5-for-8 for 46 yards. Robinson had 43 yards receiving and Myers a dozen yards. Robinson was also 1-for-1 passing for nine yards and Myers was 0-1. The Rocket passers threw two interceptions.

Myers led the team with 13 tackles on defense. Robinson had five, Paul Lopez four, Ross Crider three, Austin Janus and Ethan Hunt had two apiece and Adam Wright, Riley, Adam Beavers, Dakota Koerner and Nick Rodgers had one stop apiece.

The Rocket B-team lost 20-0 to Browning Springs.

In that game, Rodgers had nine carries for 18 yards. Noah Salin had two carries for three yards, Lopez two carries for two yards and Cody Belt two carries for a minus-one yard.

Defensively, Mason Hunt was the top tackler with five. Cruce Collyer had three tackles, Rodgers two and Ben Brown, Belt and Lopez had one each.

Boone connects on last-second pass to beat Sturgis by 6

Crittenden County’s Junior Pro football teams had two tussles with Sturgis last weekend. The Rockets managed to pull out wins, but not without some second-half heroics in each game.

Fifth- and sixth-grade team quarterback Hunter Boone threw a game-winning 18-yard touchdown pass to Hunter Jones in the final seconds to lift Crittenden to a 26-20 victory over the Chiefs Saturday at Rocket Stadium.

Sturgis trailed 6-0 at the half, but scored three times to take a 20-6 lead into the final period. Crittenden mounted its comeback in the fourth period.

Gavin Dickerson scored the first touchdown on a 32-yard run and Boone rushed for a score on a 60-yard carry. Boone threw for the last two touchdowns, once to Payton Riley and the last one to Jones at the buzzer. Dickerson also rushed for one conversion during the game.

Crittenden is now 2-2 on the season. Here are statistics from the fifth- and sixth-grade game:

Rushing
Gavin Dickerson 22-155, Devon Nesbitt 8-73, Hunter Boone 6-55, Payton Riley 3-(-1).

Passing
Boone 8-14-0, 99 yards.

Receiving
Riley 3-42, Dickerson 2-25, Hunter Jones 2-22, Ethan Dossett 1-10.

Defense: Tackles
Dickerson 12, Riley 10, Dossett 8, Jimmy Crider 7, Boone 6, Sean O’Leary 5, Nesbitt 3, Jones 3, Cole Wood 2, Alex Tucker 2, Wyatt Gibson 2, Blake Curnel 1, Devin Porter 1.

Third- and Fourth-Grade Game Crittenden 30, Sturgis 24

Crittenden County’s third and fourth graders had their toughest test of the season Saturday as the previously undefeated Chiefs held the young Rockets in check much of the game.

Crittenden trailed at halftime, but bounced back in the fourth quarter to keep its perfect 4-0 record in tact. A key fumble recovery by Sammy Greenwell and a safety caused by Ben Dobyns helped Crittenden’s comeback.

Running backs Gabe Mott and Caden McCalister scored a touchdown apiece and quarterback Braxton Winders and flanker Xander Tabor also had rushing touchdowns. McCalister and Mott also rushed for conversions.

Here are statistics from the third- and fourth-grade game:

Rushing

Gabe Mott 26-158, Caden McCalister 20-94, Braxton Winders 3-32, Xander Tabor 3-11, Sammy Greenwell 1-0.

Passing

Winders 1-1-0, 8 yds.

Receiving
Mott 1-8.

Defense: Tackles
Ben Dobyns 4, Lathen Easley 3 (fumble recovery), Greenwell 2 (fumble recovery), Tyler Boone 2, Ian Ellington 2, Gabe Mott 2, Braxton Winders 2.

B-Team Game Sturgis 8, Crittenden 0

Crittenden County let Sturgis score late in the game to break a defensive stalemate in third- and fourth-grade B-team action Saturday.

Here are statistics from the game:

Rushing
Luke Crider 5-12, Trace Derrington 2-20, Gavin Hunt 1-2, Keifer Marshall 1-0, Tanner Beverly 1-0.

Checks are in the mail for CRP acreage

Greetings Livingston and Crittenden County farmers and cattle producers. This is a busy time of year in the office. We are currently issuing all of our annual payments. CRP payments should already be in your bank accounts and DCP payments should show up in a day or so. If you do not see your payments in your accounts by Monday, then it is possible we are missing information from you. Please keep in mind if you receive a check it could be 10 days or more before you receive it. With this in mind, you may want to think about getting a direct deposit on file. I stated before, we will be going to debit cards soon, but no word when that is officially going to happen.

In Progress

We are currently able to certify acreage for the 2013 crop year (our crop years run from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30). As soon as you have your wheat, rye or any other fall seeded crop please call and make an appointment to certify. The deadline to certify these crops is Nov. 15.

This is new this year. We have never had to certify wheat this early. We are more than happy to email maps to you in order to make this process more efficient in the office. If you have CRP you are also able to certify at this time. Also, we have new imagery from 2012 so we will soon be setting up times to meet with producers who we need to update their maps due to changes in the way fields are farmed, new roads being built, re-classifying fields that are not able to be farmed anymore, houses or outbuilding being built, etc. We would like to have our maps as updated as possible in order to make the certification process more efficient.

Recently several producers signed up for ECP water development due to the drought. At this time we still do not have any funding. If you need to complete your practices anyway, please just call our office and we will have you provide a waiver request. This request can possibly keep you eligible if funding does ever come available.

Upcoming Deadlines, Dates

Oct. 2 – 2012 CRP payments were released

Oct. 9 – 2012 DCP payments were released

Nov. 15 – Final date to certify wheat, rye or any other fall seeded crops.

ments, but questions regarding his motives and delays have resulted in motions to remove him from the case.

Comer blasted the bankruptcy process in a press conference at the Kentucky State Fair, where members of the Kentucky Cattlemen’s Association (KCA) and victims of the scandal explained how all their money was being eaten up by litigation fees, court costs and delays by the trustee. Since that time, more questions are being asked regarding who knew what Eastern was doing and when they knew it.

"When the truth all comes out, this will be one of the greatest injustices ever done to our cattle and farming community," said KCA Executive Director Dave Maples. "This mediation is the first positive step we’ve seen, and we are hopeful that this case continues in a direction that puts the victims first."

Marion firefighters train for propane fires

BY JOHN WALKER
PRESS REPORTER

Onlookers and firemen filled the Crittenden County Fairgrounds last Thursday evening to see a different kind of show.

The Marion Fire Department hosted a special training for its members and members of other local fire companies. The training involved learning how to strategically fight a fire on a propane truck.

And fight a propane fire is exactly what they did. Those who signed up for the program, which included about 30 men and women from the area, were given an hour-long lecture and simulation training. But the training did not stop there. The firemen were provided a simulated propane trailer, which is fed gas from another trailer, and allows firefighters to get real hands-on experience fighting these particular types of fires.

Tim Cook, assistant fire chief from Princeton, invented the training module and takes it all over the state to train firefighters on how to fight a propane fire situation. He said it is even more important for firefighters working in rural areas to know how to respond to a propane fire because the usage in those areas is so much higher.

"I have taken this thing all across the state," Cook said. "I have trained hundreds of firefighters on it too. It's very important to remember that these things carry hundreds of pounds worth of gas, and just one truck can burn for a long time."

He said situations where firefighters would need to respond to an incident of a burning truck are rare. But the response to such a fire is so unique that local fire departments need to be prepared and trained just in case.

Marion Fire Chief Red Howton help bring the training to Crittenden County because so many of his firefighters do not often get the chance to have local training.

"We require so many hours a year of training," Howton said. "But most of the time we have to go to Louisville or Lexington, which can be quite a ways. I am just glad to see so many of our local guys come out and take part. This is very important for our area and not something that comes around that often."

Firefighters were required to put on full gear and march in two lines towards the propane unit. Each line had a hose which pushed the flames back to the tank.

Cook said the main objective in fighting this sort of fire is not to extinguish the flames with water, as that is nearly impossible because of the fuel source.

Instead, firefighters are supposed to push the fire back far enough to allow someone to reach the propane tank's valve and shut it off.

The firefighters trained through the night, going through six different practice runs and burning more than 250 gallons of propane. But in the end, Howton said, the hard work and immense heat was more than worth the effort.

Berlin Crisis guardsmen hold reunion in Greenville

BY JOHN WALKER
PRESS REPORTER

More than 200 men and women gathered at the Wendell H. Ford National Guard Training Center in Greenville Saturday morning to commemorate the service and 50th anniversary of those who served during the Berlin Crisis of 1961-1962.

The ceremony consisted of a slideshow and short movie, each displaying the training and daily life of those sent off to "The Long Summer Camp."

"That's me, I did not know they even had that picture," said Ted Feagan of Fredonia, after seeing an old photograph of himself working on a radio. Feagan was one of 50 soldiers from the area who would be called up as part of the Third Medium Tank Battalion.

"We knew at the time we were part of something important," Feagan said. "But I don't think we understood until later how important it was."

Their service was a way for the United States to show the Soviet Union it had the manpower, and tank power, to challenge the Soviets. Richard Small, a tank platoon leader from Marion, said everyone in his unit understood what it would mean to go to war.

"It would have been a tank war," Small said. "And Kennedy knew at the time they had 8,000 tanks and the United States only had 2,000. So we had to show them we were ready. Any war in Europe was going to be about tanks."

Small said the unit at the time did not have enough men to reach full capacity, so there were fill-ins from all across the country.

At the reunion, old friends hugged and recalled their time on active duty from so many years ago.

At the ceremony, a proclamation was read from Governor Steve Beshear proclaiming Oct. 6 to be Kentucky National Guard Armor Day, and expressed a need to remember the history and commitment of armor units in Kentucky history.

Kentucky National Guard historian John Trowbridge thanked the veterans for their service and reminded them how important it is to collect the oral and pictorial history of the events which took place during the Berlin Crisis.

"As you all can tell your numbers have thinned out over the years," Trowbridge said. "We need you all to tell us those stories and share those memories you have kept with you so we can get them down on the record and remember them for future generations."

Those who attended the reunion were given a tour of the facility and provided a special booklet describing the history of their unit and service.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF THE 4th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

As the General Election approaches, I want to thank everyone I've met during my campaign to become your next State Representative. We've chatted on the street, at fish fries, BBQs, & fairs, during parades, & in your homes, and I appreciate your openness to my message. I've often said that one of the things that I enjoy so much about Western Kentucky is the people -- you are kind, generous, hard working, and smart and I've seen that over and over again throughout the campaign.

While I've had the opportunity to meet many of you, I've not been able to meet everyone. My wife, Kathy, and I have been going door-to-door almost every day to say hi and hopefully we will make it to your home. If we miss you, however, know that we tried.

The folks that I've met have my phone number. For those of you I haven't met and for those who may have lost it, my phone number is 270-988-4171. Please feel free to call me with any questions, comments, or suggestions you might have; I will answer all questions to the best of my ability and will treat you with the same respect you've shown me.

It matters who we elect. I believe that citizen legislators can represent the 4th District better than career politicians. I believe that people with private sector experience can represent the 4th District better than those whose career has been in the public sector.

You read the headlines every day: "Washington Wages War on Kentucky Coal," "EPA Limits Dust on Farms," and "Unemployment Remains Above 8%." The headlines just keep coming, but we deserve better. I know we can do better. We must do better. Together, we will do better!

I would be honored to be your 4th District State Representative and I ask for your vote on November 6. Together we can make Frankfort accountable again.

Thank you,
Lynn Bechler
